And so it begins...

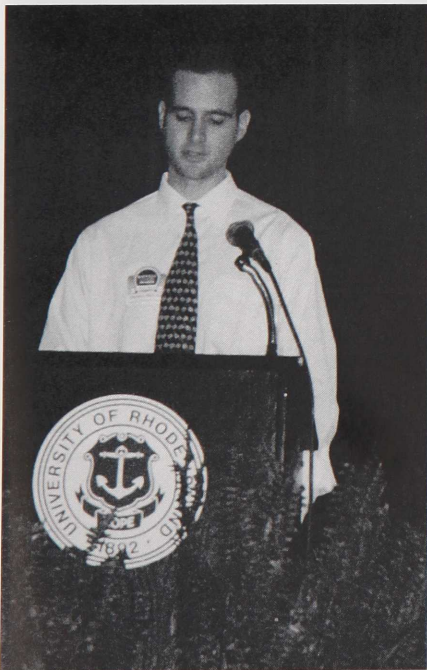

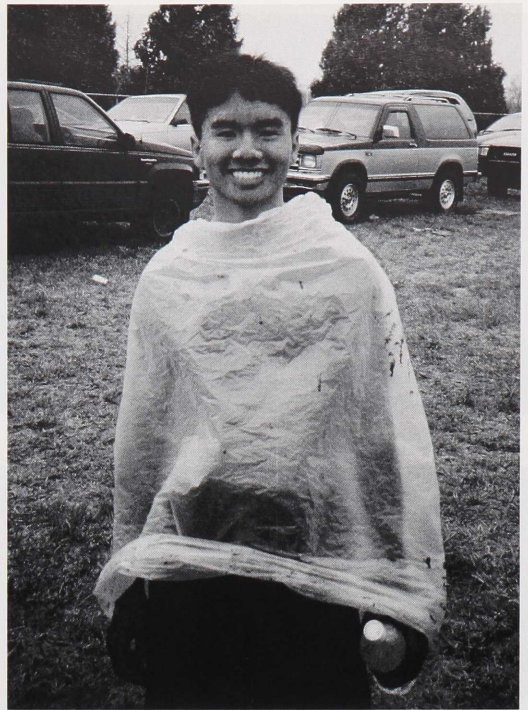

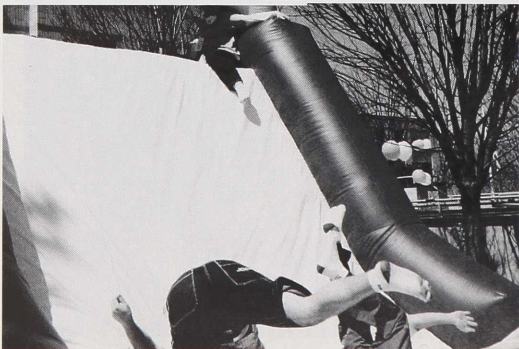

As the end of August rolled along the anticipation of move in day became strong. Packing, shopping, freedom, leaving your parents and boredom. Shopping sprees for new clothes, school supplies, food and other necessary items. Get ready now you have to pack all your personal belonging into a few boxes, bags, and anything else that can be transported. Everything ready? Not quite now you have to pack a house full of belongings into a car and then it's off to URI.

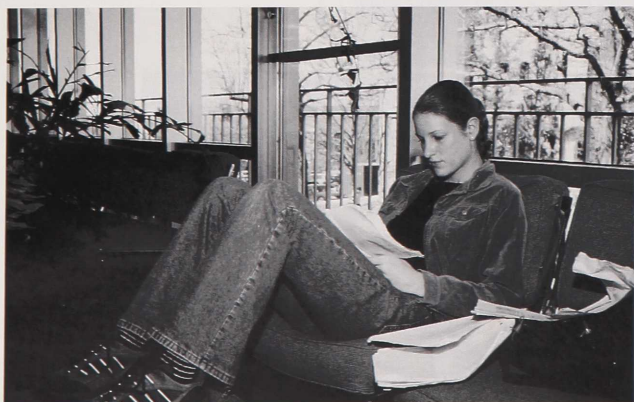

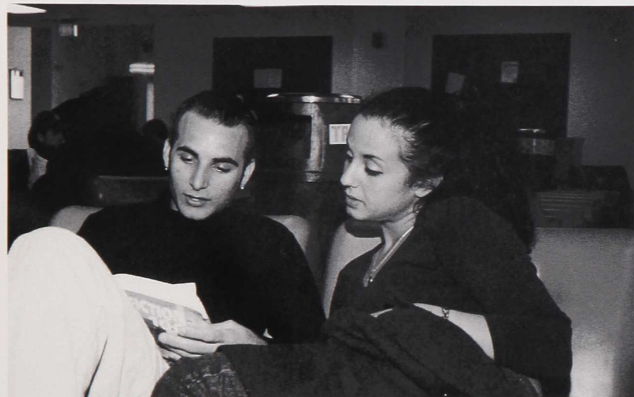

Still not over. Now unpack. How come this only seems to take a half-hour? It took you the last three weeks to pack and you are ready to go out and party with the people you haven't seen in the last three months within an hour of the time you arrive.

First night back – its all about seeing the friends you swore you would call every week over the summer but haven't talked to since June. No hard feelings its not like they called you either.

New roommate? No big deal – yet! Soon enough you will know if you are ready to find a new room or if you have found a new best friend.

First day of classes is always fun.... Running late to your 8am on the first day cause you just couldn't leave the party last night.... Hearing the teacher not be able to pronounce your name or becoming you social security number for a few weeks until your lecture professor remembers what your name really is.

Mid-year rolls around....

Homecoming – GO RAMS! We finally won! Controversies like every year, the campus authorities turn a deaf ear on the subject of underage drinking for a weekend. The Cigar got bombarded with letters to the editor about this and President Carothers also wrote in on the subject. Don't worry, next year everything will be different. But isn't homecoming the one of reasons Alumni come back year after year? They remember peeing on the fence, not remembering how you got home, and spending hundreds on four days of drinking. There is a reason it only come once a year – your body just couldn't handle it if it was any longer.

Finals bring about headaches, sleeplessness, and anticipation. Will you pass this class? Will the teacher take pity on you? Will you be sober by the time you have to get up to go? Plus you have to pack everything that you could possibly ever think you might need in the next month. Dorms get locked and without doubt you know you will forget something that you "needed".

Winter break - what did your parents give you? New clothes? Play Station 2? The new computer in the corner? Time to show off!

Hated that freshmen roommate? Convince them that school really wasn't for them, now you get the joy of a new one. Did you hear the news? Chaffee closed. Better get to the computer lab and print out your new schedual before Tuesday morning. Chances are half your classes are now in new building half way across campus from where you planed.

Saying Good-bye...

The snow days in March made the week prior to spring break seem to last forever. But coming back from Florida, Cancun, or the tanning booths at home brought some very interesting stories. Who did you hook up with? How much do you remember?

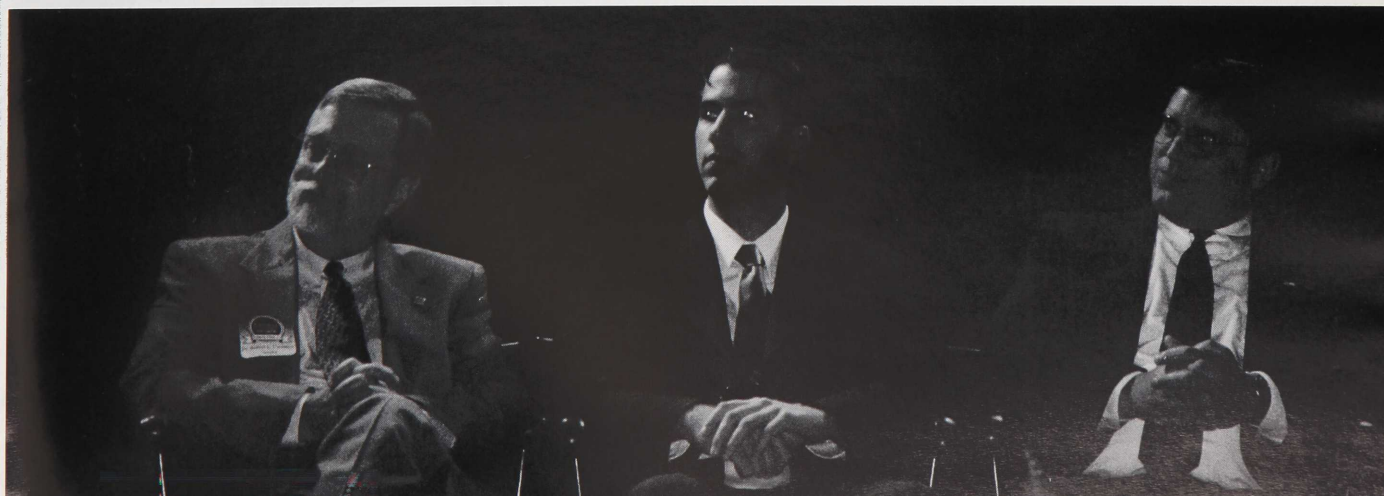

Finals for the last time. Only one reading day this year. Preparing to give up your “secret spot” in the library to an unknowing freshman knowing that you will never need to run to its shelter again. Finishing the last final with the knowledge not only that the class has left you with but also knowing that the future will hold bosses not professors. Will the work force really care what your GPA was sophomore year?

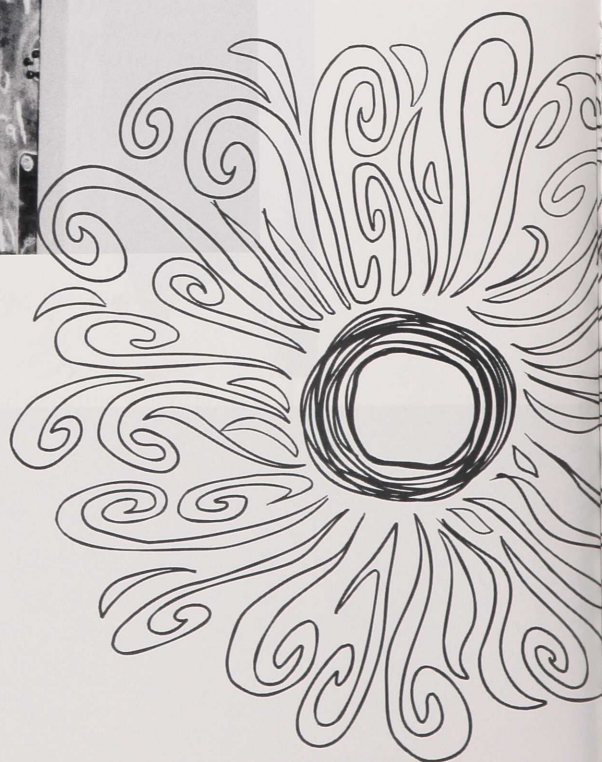

Time to say good-bye. You have known the people around you for at least four years. The night that never ended, the water balloon fights in the hall, the boyfriends and girlfriends that were and were not, and every other memory that your brain can still remember. Pictures may say a thousand words but remembering the quotes from an evening out are priceless.

Looking ahead toward the real world deciding where you are going to move to after graduation. Job offers come pouring in.

Saying the final farewells as you walk across the quad clad in black with tears in your eyes. Knowing that you can never go back to the way things were. Having the same fear in your heart you did a few years prior when you set foot on this campus for the first time.

TWELFTH NIGHT

The University of Rhode Island Theatre Department's production of Twelfth Night is sure to provide a night of laughter, mistaken identities, and mischief.

The play will run from April 19 to 21 and from April 25 to 28 at 8 p.m. in the Robert E. Will Theatre of URI's Fine Arts Center. The April 19 show is a signed performance. Proceeds from the Friday, April 27 performance will benefit the Thomas R. Pezzullo Memorial Scholarship Fund.

Twelfth Night, by William Shakespeare, follows the beautiful, shipwrecked Viola as she washes up on the seacoast of Illyria and must dress as a male to survive. Along the way she meets her true love, finds her long-lost brother, and sets into effect a stream of hilarious events.

"This is probably one of the greatest, if not the greatest, of Shakespeare's comedies. It's fun and it's funny," said Anthony Estrella, director of Twelfth Night.

According to Estrella, the play is much more than just a comedy as it explores the extremes of human emotion.

"It's a beautiful play with a really big heart. It's about grief and love and acceptance and it is a celebration of all those things. It is also very real and human as we're dealing with real human magic. Everyone can identify with it because it is from this world," said Estrella.

URI's production is influenced by the American and European styles of the 1930s. Estrella said one of the biggest challenges in producing a Shakespearean play is that people feel so removed from the language and costumes. By modernizing the setting, the play is more available to the audience.

"With the 30s you have a time period that is from the last century, but is still vivid in people's consciousness. It's a time period that is a world away, but close enough," he explained.

Many of the themes throughout the play are values promoted in the Twelfth Night festival of the Renaissance. The festival, for which Shakespeare named his play, was held on January 6. Historically, it was one last day of celebration and revelry before the harvest season began. The festival was known for its celebration of inverted social structures, where peasants played kings, lords played tradesmen, and all were presided over by the "Lord of Misrule." The festival also celebrated community, which is reflected in the play.

"The theatre is about community. In society today we focus too much on alienation. But in this play, we create a sense of community, not just with the actors and actresses on-stage but with the audience," explained Anthony Luciano, a senior theatre major from Colchester, Vt., who plays Sir Toby Belch.

The production is taking another step to create a link to the community with the April 27 performance of Twelfth Night, which benefits the Thomas R. Pezzullo scholarship fund. The fund honors the late Thomas Pezzullo, a career educator and vice president at both the University of Rhode Island and Rhode Island College. The fund was established by Pezzullo's wife, Barbara Brittingham, a former dean of the College of Human Science and Services, and his sons, David J. and Daniel W. Pezzullo, to help needy and talented students attend school and take full advantage of their college experience. Pezzullo was an accomplished actor, director and set designer who won awards for his work in community theatre.

“State one fact that you think is relatively unknown about URI”

What you said:

“a.k.a. U.R.High”

“Bressler Hall was built over the pits of Hell”

“Ellery hall is the best dorm on campus”

“Fiji is not a bunch of rapists and farm animal lovers”

“Golf on the Quad is really fun at 3am”

“That there is a nuclear reactor buried beneath the campus. Reason why the campus is always steaming”

“It is harder to get in now than when I was a freshmen”

“It may seem large - but we’re all one big family”

“Streaking the Quad is a rite of passage”

“That there are so many steam leaks - I think the campus could collapse”

“The state has the worst drivers in the world”

“There are dead people buried underneath Keeny gym”

“URI has no spirit and dreads mediocrity in terms of personal development outside the classroom”

“URI professors really help you out”

“We have some of the best looking girls in the country”

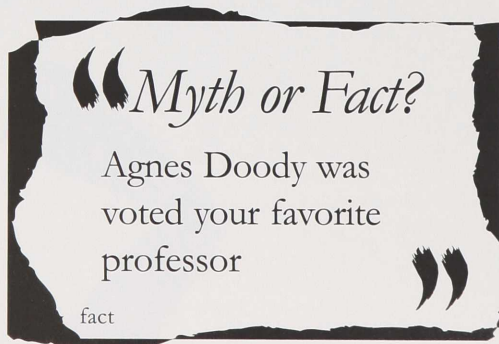

note: these are the opinions of graduating seniors and do not necessarily reflect the opinions of the Renaissance staff or the University of Rhode Island.

The left side of the page features several abstract, grey, geometric shapes that resemble jagged mountain peaks or stylized architectural elements. These shapes are layered, with some appearing in front of others, creating a sense of depth. The top shape is a simple triangle. Below it is a more complex, multi-pointed shape. Further down is another jagged shape, and at the bottom is a large, prominent shape with multiple sharp points and a wide base.

Dorm Life and Buildings

Merrow

Residents of Merrow Hall had plenty to do this year with events such as Midnight Twister, Spirit Week, a Winter Formal, and weekly study breaks. Merrow Hall is unique in that half of the dorm houses all females and half houses honor students. The RA's of Merrow were Jen Chin, Anthony Delsignore, Matt Lacroix, Becky Murray, and Katelynn Martin.

Peck

Although Peck Hall is one of the smallest dorms on campus, residents could always find something to do with the many events the RA's held. Events included weekly student breaks, movie nights, a visit from the Zoomobile, Easter egg decorating, Sand Art, and a Semi-Formal. The RA's of Peck Hall were Kimberly Deady, Al Da Cruz, Eric Martin, and Elizabeth Rosengren. The Assistant Hall Director was Asako Matsuura.

Burnside

The fabulous RA's of Burnside Hall this year were Jennifer Bickett, Trang Nguyen, Adriana Ramirez, Claudia Rodriques, Muhammed Shloud, Daniel Snizek, and Chip Tillman. Their Assistant Hall Director was Nam Kim.

Adams

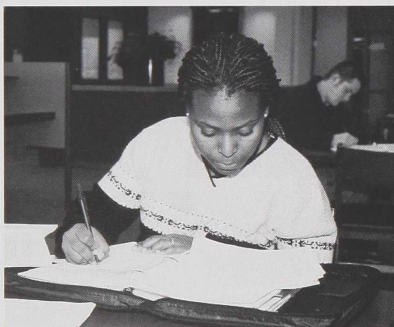

Evan Pierce, Justin Rechter, Daniel Taylor, James Towle, and Jayme Zimmermann were the RA's who kept Adam's Hall Residents under control this year. Their Assistant Hall Director was Zack Jackson.

Hopkins

The four fantastic RA's of Hopkins Hall this year were Amanda Dauphinee, Michael Marinello, Ana Semedo, and Joseph Tuzzam. Their Hall Director was Bob Fuguea.

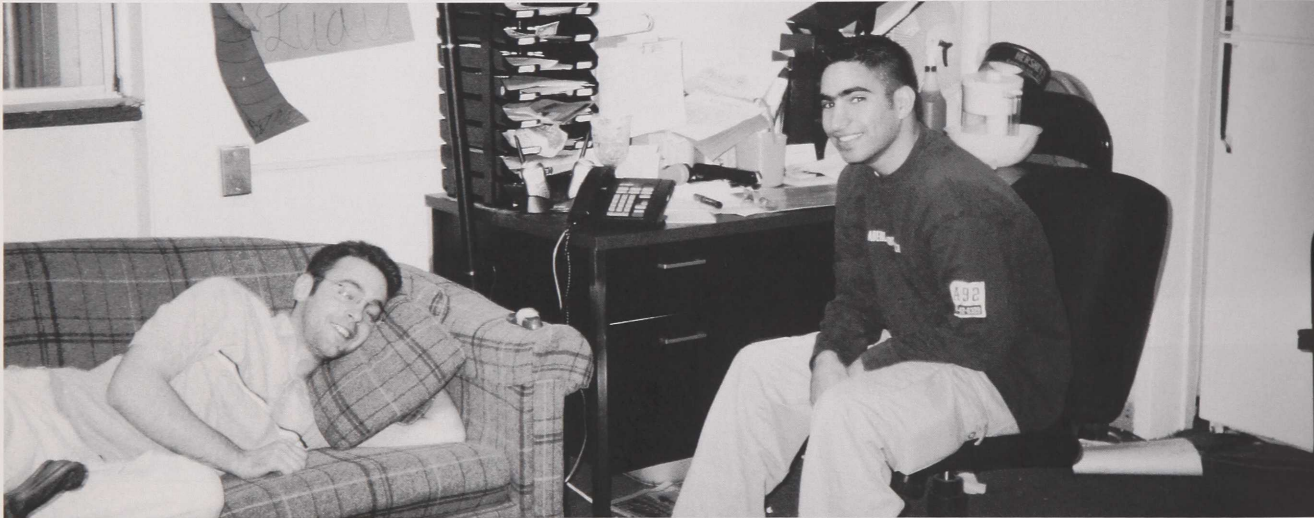

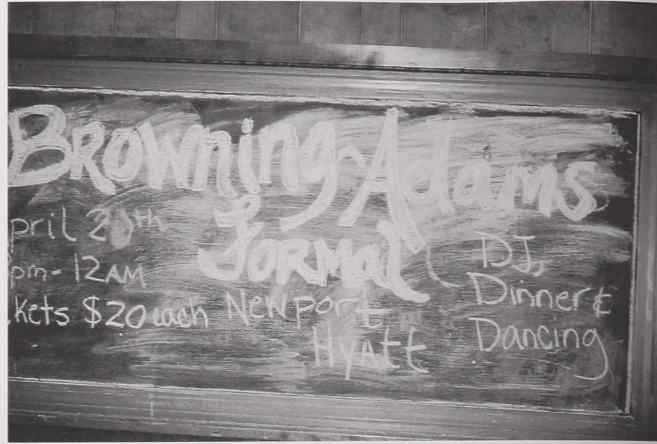

Aldrich

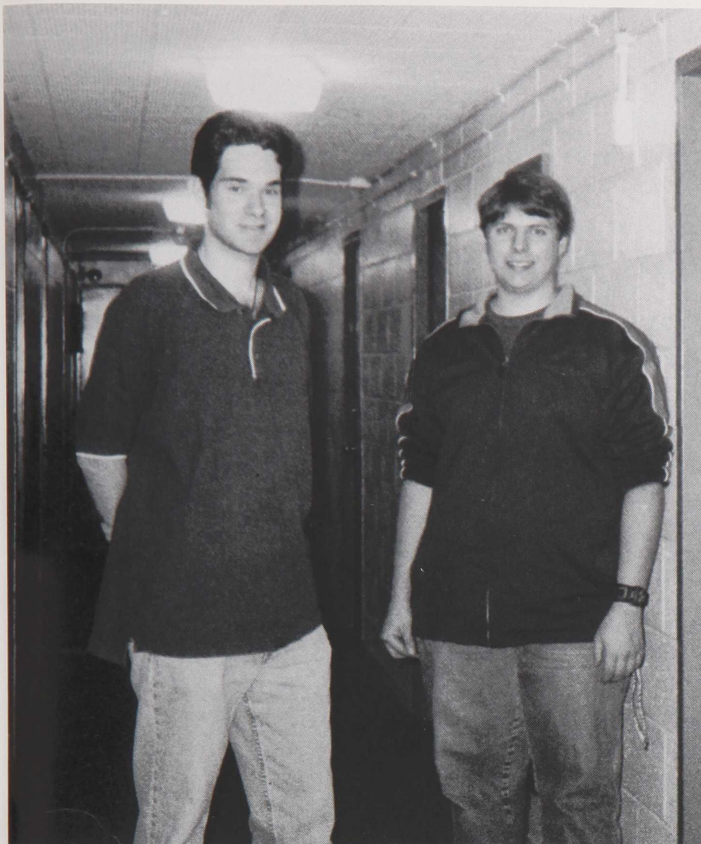

Aldrich's RA's were Kristie Ferland, Jonathan Ho, Brooke Lemme, and Pericles Vieira. Their Hall Director was Rainy Dube.

Browning

Browning Hall is one of the largest dorms on campus. It is also one of the all-freshmen dorms and plans are in the way for future renovations. Browning Hall residents were lucky enough to have a Formal at the Newport Hyatt. The RA's this year were Melissa Anderson, Scott Bergeron, Emily Clapham, Jason Dunlap, Susan Gravitch, Seana Grey, Ken Jenkins, Jeremy Melnuck, John Stringer, Monica Tavares, and Peter Webster. The Assistant Hall Director was Alison Bufalo.

Hutchinson

Part of the Little 4, Hutchinson residents know how to have a good time. Events this year included barbecues, volleyball games, and a Semi-Formal dance. Their RA's were Matthew Burm, Julie Erickson, Jessica Tamam, and Bryan Stanislaus. Their Hall Director was Michael Lapointe.

Tucker

Tucker Hall's Assistant Hall Director was Amanda Calabro and the RA's this year were Barry Leo, Melanie Morgan, Jean Reynolds, Jerry Staves, and Elizabeth Timpe.

Barlow

Barlow Hall Residents and Staff had a very exciting year in which the RA staff won the Rainville Team Award. RA's this year were Shawn Brothers, Christopher Walsh, Mark Amargo, Julie Bixby, Glen Deslauriers, Glen Whitfield, Matt Buttrich, Dorie Spitler, Heather Curzio, Ryan Loiselle, and Sarah Buonaccorsi.

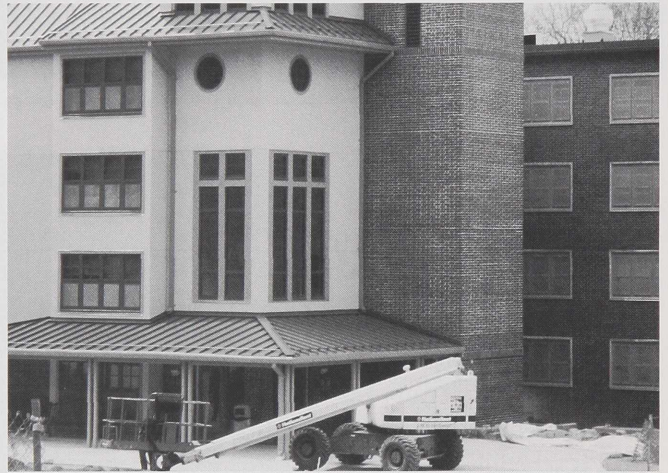

Residents of the newly renovated "Barlow Hotel" could participate in several activities including karaoke, making ornaments for children, paintball, flag football, movie nights, scavenger hunt, snow football, mask making, talent show, a battle of the sexes, and a Semi-Formal.

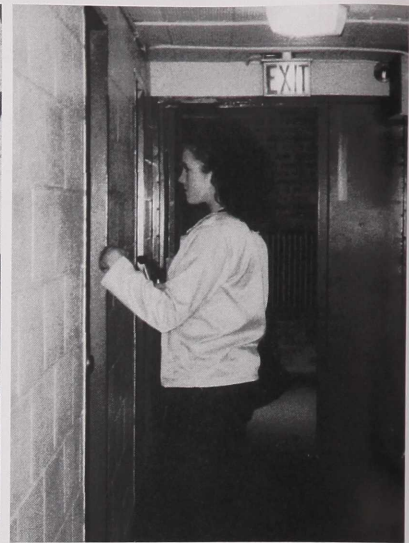

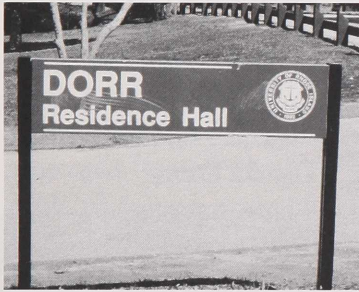

Weldin

Weldin is a beautiful newly renovated dorm located in between Barlow and Adams. Their RA's this year were Cory Beusquet, Nathalie Bennez, Christine Hannan, Adam Lamoureux, Ken Poirier, Eric Prive, Matilda Burghardt, Lee Stetson, and Dan Ragan. Their Assitant Hall Director was Damita Davis.

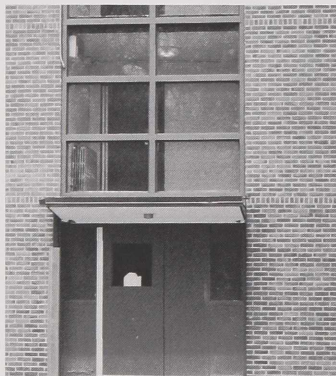

Dorr

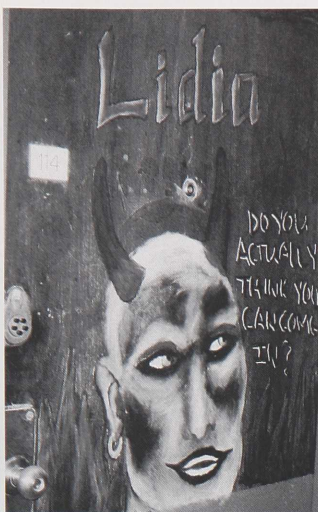

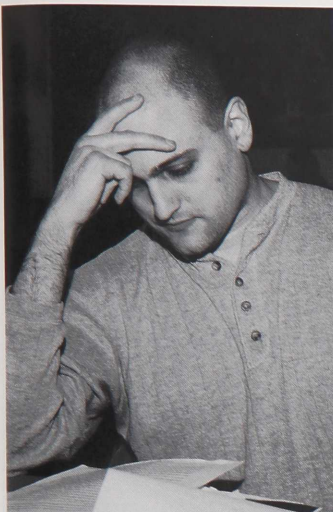

Shelly Argentieri, Brienne Cronin, Jonathan DeMare, Lisa Iadevaia, Michaela Keegan, and Bernardino Ramos are the RA's of the suite-style dorm, Dorr Hall, located near the Roger Williams Complex. Their Hall Director was Larry Brusic.

Butterfield

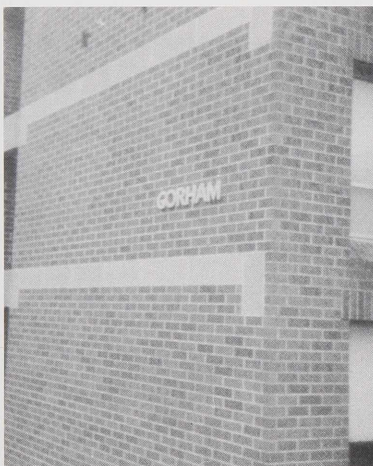

Butterfield RA's were Eric Ernst, Christine Peters, Fritz Pluviose, Ronald Serpa, Meghan Smith, and Ralph Supper. Their Assistant Hall Director was Lynne Yong. Butterfield Hall is scheduled to be renovated over the summer.

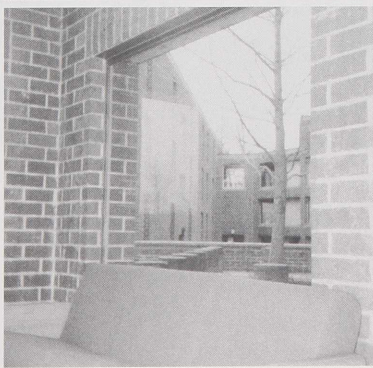

Fayerweather

The RA's of Fayerweather Hall this year were Mercy Amo, Vanessa Cuevas, Heather Harris, April Lapierre, Jilliam Mackin, and Jeff Yachmetz. The Hall Director of Fayerweather was Mark Lane.

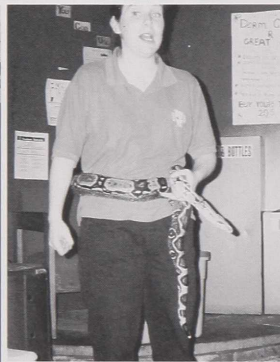

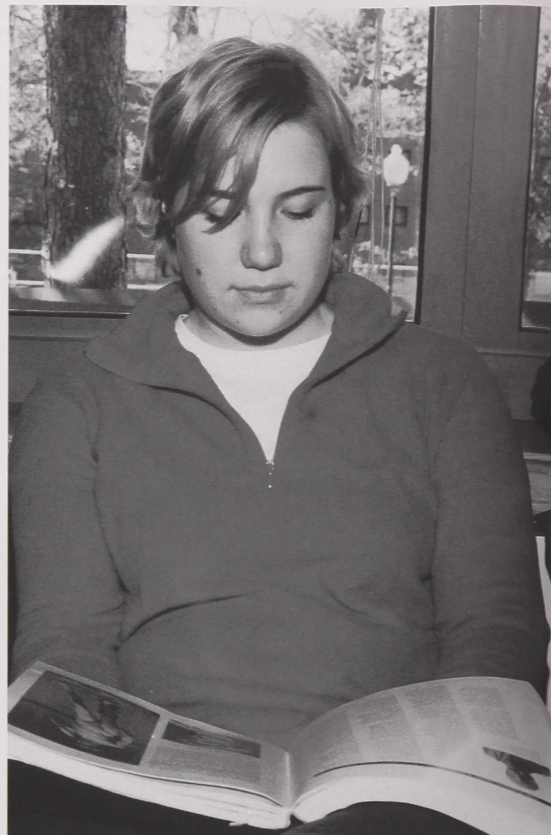

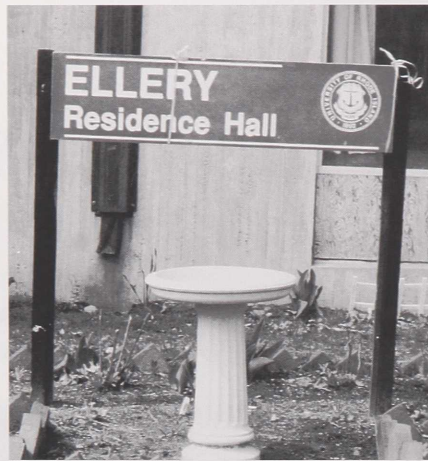

Gorham

Gorham Hall Resident Directors this year were Anthony Alexander, Kyle Deguire, Kristie DiLuna, Staci Hermann, Chandra Rogers, and Jen Wanat. Lori Kuntz was the Assitant Hall Director of Gorham.

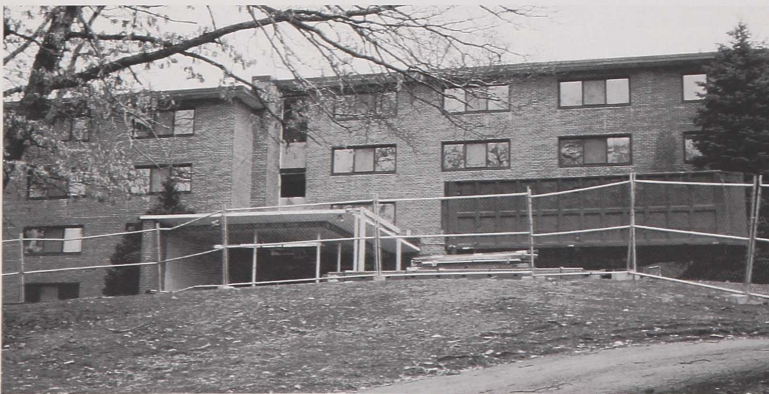

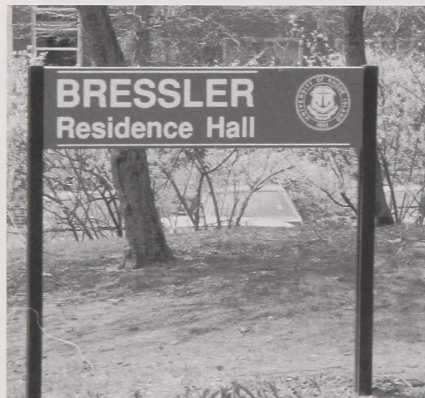

Ellery

Ellery Hall RA's this year were Bonniwell Graham, Jason Harridge, Laurie Los, and Scott Young. The Hall Director was Dan Szumllo.

Bressler

Bressler Hall began renovations during the spring semester and thus was closed for all residents. Students can look forward to seeing the dorm reopen in the fall.

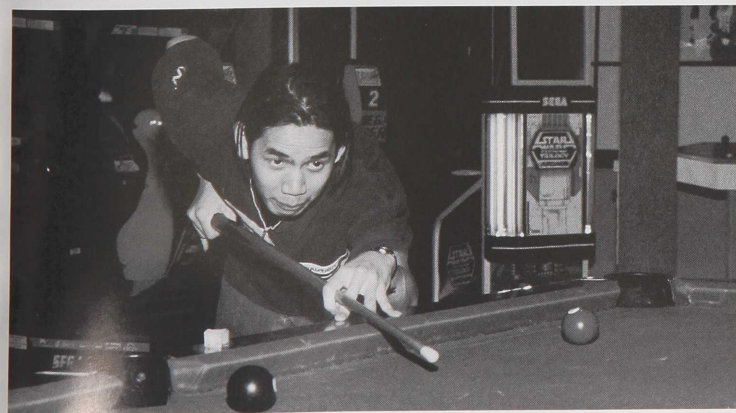

Heathman

Heathman Hall RA's, Jason McCollough, Kelly DiPiero, Jaime De la Zerda, Robbyn Annan, Lauren Decloe, Kelsey Latimer, Ronnie Kim, Rich Marese, Brian Menard, and Chasity Simon, set up a soothing fountain in their lounge for all to enjoy. Heathman's motto is "Something About Heathman" and some activities held there this year were the zoomobile, community conversations, safe sex discussion, a BBQ, and a cruise. Heathman was also transformed into "Club Heathman this spring to raise money and canned good donations for charity.

Coddington

Erica Conners was the Assitant Hall Director of Coddington Hall this year. The RA's there were Mike Baker, Jesse Decker, Philomene Fortes, Rod Gamble, Rosa Goncalves, Mavis Nimah, and Tenner Wilkins.

Life is like a clock, always ticking until its over, or until the batteries die.
It takes time to grow and become more mature, wiser,
just as it takes 24 hours to form a day. Life is split into various rite of passages, just as a clock is split into hours, minutes,
etc. When you finish fulfilling your own quest for life your life is over, you die, just as a clocks batteries die

Is This The End?...

Every year the chosen editor develops a harsh case of writer's block when it is time to write the closing of their book. How do you sum up numerous hours given up by you and a few amazing staff members? Should you tell about the last week where you have been in the office for ten plus hour days? But isn't that what the President of every organization does?

How about thanking all those who helped you? Well that would include our amazing advisor Maureen McDermott who dealt with a few screaming parents and other business things we didn't know where to start with. Dee Hoebbel in the Student Senate office, who amazes us more and more each year with her amazing knowledge of everything Rhody. She will be strongly missed. Caren Korin our Photography representative from Davor; who we would like to congratulate on her first son, Eli. Kyle Burkhardt who took most of our candid coverage and who is great to have four hour long chats with. Norval Garnet from Jostens Publishing who always has the answers when the computer does things it is not supposed to. Ron Barlow in purchasing who made sure we got the massive number of photo packages as they came in. Dave Bascom in maintenance and grounds who helped us get the flags on Upper College Road for the portrait sessions. Tom Dugan in Student Affairs who gave us the information for the memorandum page. Brad Irish for checking up on us when we were in the office all night long. Media Relations for setting us up with all the sports photos. Andy, Amy, and Tonya who were our understanding roommates and friends who dedicated as much time as any staff member (you mean a lot to us). There are a million other people to thank so please don't take offence if I happened to oversee your name. And to you the class of 2001 for giving us a reason to work so hard.

A Final Note...

This the 99th issue of the Yearbook will be another link in the chain of memories from your years at URI. This particular year will serve as a means of renewing friendships for each graduate as he or she travels down their chosen path. Only when class reunions, or other instances as such, will there be such an easily accessed opportunity to mingle with memories. The value of this book will truly become apparent when the memories that we hold so dear to our hearts now fade off with time.

URI has been our home for at least the last four years and the place where we “found” ourselves or at least experimented with who we might want to be. It has been the place where we have grown, learned, loved, and caused immeasurable problems.

We look to ourselves to search and sort out what we’ve accomplished. As the graduates walk across the Quad for the last time as students, they leave behind themselves their legacy, memories, and part of themselves for the rest of the school to learn from.

The Renaissance staff would like to wish the Graduates of the Class of 2001 the best of luck in what ever they choose to do. We wish you an immense amount of happiness and the courage to conquer the world.

And now our disclaimer: We hope you look at this as an archival document that can be kept and remembered through out the ages. Please remember when reviewing our book that this was a volunteer project. Creating a yearbook entails hours upon hours; and after starring at a computer screen for too long fingers tend to slip up. If an error does occur, please accept our deepest apologies. We have done our best to keep mistakes away but no one is perfect; except for you.

Volume 99 of Renaissance, The University of Rhode Island's Yearbook, was printed by Jostens Printing and Publishing Division of State College, Pennsylvania, in August 2001. Four hundred fifty copies of the 264 page book were printed. The cover is 9x12 true life cover on high gloss It 478. It was printed using processed color covered with a matte laminate. All type styles are from Jostens Printing and Publishing Division. The endsheets were natural #298. Paper stock is 80 pound gloss. Senior portraits and some candid photos were taken by Davor Photography, Pennsylvania.
